

The Administrative Commission for College Hill Community Church held a congregational gathering on September 7 for the following purposes: a service of healing and wholeness, congregational training on the Book of Order (especially around the theme of membership), and a called congregational meeting to revise the bylaws of the congregation.

The congregation continues to worship together, welcome new members, and be a steadfast witness to God's redeeming love in West Dayton. Once new bylaws are in place, the next step is for a nominating committee to be elected and to put together a slate of people to be elected and serve together as a session so that we can return jurisdiction.

Respectfully submitted,
